Don,

I will check the weather this afternoon for tomorrow. As of now we have a 10% chance of rain for tomorrow but it increases for Friday.

Thanks

Good morning, Terri.

I went ahead and stood down my trucks for today thinking it would rain over at the landfill. I'm hoping to resume loads from FJ Doyle Salvage in Leonard, TX in the AM.

Could you or one of your folks send me an update around 5 PM today on how it looks for tomorrow? I realize that is hard to do with the rain forecast for tonight but due to the long distance we have to travel, I need to let the trucks know sometime later tonight.

Thanks again,

Don

Good morning.

I'm planning on shipping TSCA soils to Itasca all week, weather permitting. If there are any receiving delays due to weather, please let me know as soon as you can. Given the distance we are away from you, I'll need as much advance notice of any receiving changes as soon as possible.

Thanks,
